DEMOLITION DELAYED—The demolition of the five-story Pine Hills Hotel originally scheduled for late July or August has been delayed due to the discovery of a "significant amount" of asbestos used in the insulation of the building, according to Garry Ruff spokesman for the DuPont Company which owns the hotel. ## Decision on use of St. Rose facilities delayed

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board has delayed a decision until a special 7 p.m. Monday meeting on the use of St. Rose de Lima School as a fifth grade center.

The agenda for the special meeting includes kindergarten and classroom accommodations.

The board agreed Thursday to delay the decision "a week at the most" in order to evaluate eight recommendations from Superintendent of Education Roger Oge, Board President Betty Diboll said.

Moving the fifth grade to St. Rose has been proposed as a method of making room for kindergarten at Waveland and North Bay elementary schools.

The board may call a special meeting earlier if members finish their individual evaluations over the weekend, Diboll said.

Oge, however, was against the delay, stating that he feels "one week is critical."

"If a decision is not made tonight, we can not begin anything. There is some clean-up and repair work needed at St. Rose that has to be done as soon as possible," he explained.

Four board members, including Diboll, Cyril Glover, Linda Penrose and Reginald Robinson, said the recommendations and cost comparisons provided by Oge did not provide them with enough information.

The fifth board member, L.D. Carter, is attending the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Training Academy in Jackson and was absent from the meeting.

Diboll said one important area not included in the recommendations and cost estimates was cafeteria arrangements.

St. Rose has facilities available, but Diboll questioned whether they need renovation and said she wants the district's food services director to inspect the kitchen equipment as soon as possible.

Bomb threat delays work

BY DENA BISNETTE

A bomb threat at the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant Tuesday turned out to be bogus but delayed the start of a work shift while a room was searched.

According to Col. R.W. Bregard, a telephone call received at about 6:20 a.m. Tuesday indicated that a bomb had been hidden in the plant's forge room.

Because the call was received while most of the 25-person forge room crew was still arriving at the plant, only four or five workers were already in the room, Bregard said. Those people were evacuated and the others were not allowed to enter until the search was completed.

Bregard said the room was searched by military and plant security personnel. No bomb was found.

"We always take people who have an intimate knowledge of the location on these searches. If something is out of place or there is a suspicious-looking object, they can

Board, superintendent agree no transfers for county principals

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Ending a three-week controversy over school district principals, the Hancock North Central School Board and Superintendent Terrell Randolph decided Thursday not to make any administrative transfers.

The conflict arose with recommended transfers by Randolph which would move Hancock North Central High School Principal Donald Hillman to the Central Office at Assistant Superintendent of Operations and put Charles B. Murphy Principal Philip Terrell into Hillman's slot.

The board continuously refused the recommendations.

After a "healthy" discussion between the board and Randolph, it was agreed that both Hillman and Terrell would remain at their current positions.

Randolph's original recommendation at the meeting called for Hillman to be moved to the central office and David Kopf to be the high school principal.

The board again refused the recommendation stating it was not going along with any transfers that moved Hillman from Hancock North Central.

Kopf was then approved as assistant high school principal.

Other positions approved include James Pair as assistant superintendent; Jeannette Handshoe as special education, Chapter II, Impact Aid and textbook director; Dr. Dianne Tucker as Hancock North Central Elementary Principal; and Jeanne Seay and Linda Seal to work in the central office.

In other business the board:

- Approved a payment to Tilley Constructors for Certificate No. 4 in the amount of $35,473.50 for the six-classroom addition at Gulfview.
- Approved payment to Architect Fred Wagner for professional services for Certificate No. 4 in the amount of $821 for the classroom project at Gulfview.
- Authorized the advertisement for bids for new lumber to repair the bleachers at Hancock North Central.
- Authorized the advertisement for bids for plumbing supplies for repair of restrooms at C. B. Murphy, Gulfview and Hancock Central schools.

- Approved to advertise for bids for lumber and materials for covered walkway at Hancock North Central Elementary.
- Approved the resignation of Herman J. Necaise Jr. as janitor at Hancock North Central.
- Approved the resignation of Susie Harmon as clerk in Central Office effective July 15.
- Approved a recommendation to employ Carol Ann Armbruster as Special Education teacher at Gulfview Elementary for the 1986-87 school year, pending certification.

Catahoula youth sustains fatal accident injuries

A 12-year-old Hancock North Central eighth grader sustained fatal injuries Friday in an automobile accident at his home on Brown's Road in the Catahoula community.

Kenneth James Pepiton, manager of HNC's Ninth Grade Football Team, was pronounced dead at Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picaune about 12:20 p.m. Friday.

He was the son of Mrs. Patricia Pepiton, owner of the Catahoula Grocery on Hwy. 43.

The youth sustained head and chest injuries about noon Friday after he attempted to jump onto the hood of a moving car in the driveway of his home, according to Pearl River County Coroner Norman Sims.

The death was ruled an accident, Sims said.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said the car was driven by the victim's brother Stephen Pepiton, 14.

Deputy James Ladner investigated the incident for the sheriff's office.

An obituary notice for Kenneth Pepiton appears on Page 2A of today's paper.

Mother of youth injured in diving accident needs help

Friends and family of a 16-year-old Bay St. Louis youth who sustained neck injuries in a recent diving accident are seeking assistance to allow the boy's mother to accompany him to a Chicago, Ill. hospital.

Aloysius Farve, who suffered a broken neck July 17 when he dove into shallow water, is expected to be transferred this week to the Spinal Cord Injury Program of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in Chicago.

Favre, of 206 Toulme St., Bay St. Louis, has been in the intensive care unit of Gulf Coast Community Hospital in Biloxi since his admission following the accident, which occurred in the three-foot-deep "blue hole" off the Bayou LaCroix Road west of Waveland.

"He is in stable condition and improving a little each day," according to his mother, Karen Stoufflet.

"His neck is broken and he is paralyzed, although he can move a little bit. He's in real good spirits. It will be a long process—two months until he can wear a neck brace and sit in a wheelchair, his mother said.

"Now we're waiting for the doctor to say he's well enough to fly to Chicago," she said.

Shriners Hospital for Crippled will take any case of a quadriplegic or paraplegic child for intensive rehabilitation without fee.

"There are no financial qualifications for a family in a case like this. To pay the cost of care of a spine-injured child, you've got to be a millionaire. We don't look at finances, a hospital spokesman said.

In addition, the Shriners will rent a plane or use one of their own private planes to transport patients, he said.

Stoufflet is seeking accommodations for herself at a Ronald McDonald House near the Shriners Hospital or at a similar facility.

Persons interested in assisting Stoufflet with expenses accumulating at the Biloxi hospital and with the forthcoming trip and stay in Chicago may call Mr. or Mrs. Carl Thomas at 467-6025 in Bay St. Louis.

Bay resident gets Seeing Eye dog

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Sunshine, a two-year-old Seeing Eye dog, is a new companion and guide for Bay St. Louis resident Harvey Heagy.

Blind since birth this is Heagy's first seeing-eye dog but Heagy is quickly becoming accustomed to his new guide.

According to Heagy, Sunshine is a friendly dog and will help him increase his mobility.

Heagy says they have already gotten accustomed to walking in the immediate neighborhood but are taking extra time to prepare for crossing US-90 to get to the shopping center Heagy frequents.

Although Sunshine loves to be petted, Heagy says this is very distracting to the animal.

Richard Krokus, director of instruction and training at the Seeing Eye school, urges people to ignore impulses to pet or interfere with a Seeing Eye dog.

"Nothing could be more natural than the desire to pat these loyal and steadfast guides but they cannot be expected to keep their attention on speeding traffic if at the same time they are receiving affectionate pats from passersby," Krokus said.

Heagy says one of the greatest difficulties for dog guide owners is public interference.

Krokus warns that mistaken efforts to be helpful create dangerous situations.

"Grabbing the arm of a blind person, taking hold of the dog's harness or shouting words of warning, all have much the same effect that might occur if a passenger in a fast-moving car grabbed the steering wheel or yanked the arm of the driver," Krokus said.

Krokus recommends persons wishing to provide assistance for a blind person simply inquire, "May I be of help to you?"

"If the blind person desires help, he can then ask for it," he added.

Another problem guide dog owners face is the natural hesitance from business owners who do not want dogs in their establishments.

"There are now laws in all 50 states to prevent discrimination against persons with seeing eye dogs," Heagy said.

At the training school, Heagy was furnished with a pamphlet which lists laws regarding guide dogs in all states.

Mississippi laws prohibit any extra fees being charged because of the dog's presence, Heagy said.

The law further guarantees a blind person the legal right to be accompanied by a specially trained dog guide "in all public accommodations and public transportation."

Violations of these rights are punishable by fines and imprisonment.

Heagy was able to obtain the Golden Retriever Sunshine through Seeing Eye, Inc., a 47-year-old organization which states its primary purpose is to help blind men and women achieve independence and mobility through the use of trained guide dogs.

The application process calls for a letter of reference for evidence of good health and good character and intensive training for the potential

Seeing Eye dog owner.

This training takes place at the Seeing Eye training center in Morristown, N. J. where Heagy recently spent four weeks.

"Seeing Eye just doesn't give a blind person a dog," Heagy said.

Each person is matched with a dog in regards to walking pace, temperament, climate and physical demands, he added.

"For example, a physically active person would need a different dog than an inactive person," Heagy said.

According to Heagy, Seeing Eye has provided guide dogs for nearly 5,000 blind persons since 1929.

"Many persons have been provided with more than one guide dog throughout the years since the average life span of the dogs is about 10 years," he said.

Heagy encourages anyone interested in learning more about the organization, contact Seeing Eye Inc., Morristown N.J. 07960.

Medicare supplements

"Medigap" policies don't always cover

MISSISSIPPI STATE - Anyone who has watched even a little TV has probably seen those commercials for supplemental Medicare insurance.

Supplemental Medicare insurance can help in paying hospital bills if consumers choose policies carefully, according to Janet K. Lukens, an area consumer management specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. But all too often the supplemental policies do not really provide the right kind of coverage.

"Medicare supplement policies, or 'medigap' policies, can cost $150 to $1,070 annually, and may still not be the coverage you need," Ms. Lukens said. "Lack of knowledge of the benefits supplied by Medicare and Medicare supplements is usually the cause for inadequate but costly coverage."

Medicare supplement policies are designed to pick up where Medicare stops. But beware - policies vary greatly in the amount of additional coverage they provide. Read the fine print and know what the policy covers. Most Medicare supplements usually follow Medicare guidelines and do not offer coverage for services not covered by Medicare, Ms. Lukens said.

Many elderly people are dismayed to find they are obligated to as much as $2000 a month for nursing home expenses, even though they are covered by Medicare plus a Medicare supplement. Medicare and most "medigap" policies do not pay for intermediate nursing or custodial care.

Medicare pays less than 45 percent of the total senior citizen health care bill. Under Medicare Part A hospital benefits, the consumer pays the first $492. Medicare then pays in full the first 60 days and a portion of the bill to 150 days. At this point, the consumer is responsible for all hospital costs.

Medicare Part B, pays 80 percent of reasonable charges for physician and other medical services. The consumer is responsible for a $75 deductible under Part B, plus all charges in excess of what Medicare calls a reasonable charge. Part B benefits are optional and the present monthly premium is $15.50.

Medicare does not cover dental care, out-of-hospital prescription drugs, private-duty nursing, or custodial (personal) care. These and several other costs the consumer must cover by himself or through supplemental health insurance.

Consumers wanting to upgrade their Medicare supplement coverage should be careful when replacing policies. Consider waiting periods and pre-existing conditions.

Waiting periods for some conditions may range from 30 days to one year. Pre-existing conditions may not be covered for 60 days by a Medicare supplement policy. Policies other than Medicare supplements may not cover pre-existing conditions at all.

Ms. Lukens advised against duplicating coverage. Try to buy only one supplemental policy.

"Try to buy the most complete medigap policy you can afford," she said. This usually provides much better coverage than buying several incomplete policies.

"Cases cited by the Wall Street Journal showed elderly persons paying as much as $14,000 over a period of five years for 50 different insurance policies. They still did not have coverage for some expenses. What they did have was excessive duplication of coverage they would never collect," Ms. Lukens said.

Check with the state insurance department for brochures on Medicare benefits and guidelines in selecting a "medigap" policy. Brochures on using private health insurance to supplement Medicare are available through the Health Insurance Association of America, 1650 K Street N.W., Washington D.C. and the Department of Health and Human Services, Health Care Financing Administration, Baltimore, Maryland 21207 (Publication #HCFA02110).

Valuable information on specific insurance policies is also found in Consumer Reports magazine and Best's Insurance Reports at the local library.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

SOYBEAN OUTLOOK POOR

Farmers like to use marketing strategies to increase profits. In a year like this one for soybeans, we may need a good strategy to reduce losses.

The profit picture for most soybean growers in Hancock County remains poor. With an estimated breakeven price of between $5.50 to $6.50 a bushel with good yields and prices near $5 a bushel, money-making opportunities are dim.

In the last several months record soybean supplies have dominated the soybean market. In the last few weeks, though, the weather has become an important market factor.

Hot, dry weather across the Southeast has helped soybean prices, and the outlook for the Midwest calls for below normal rainfall in the next several days. Dry weather in that major producing area could help prices, while favorable weather would probably bring new lows in the November futures contract.

You may have already been encouraged to price anywhere from 20 to 50 percent of this year's crop. If you haven't, you may want to consider pricing part of the crop as opportunities above $5 a bushel are available. We could well get that chance if the weather rally continues.

If we have to sell soybeans at harvest, it's probably a good idea to have at least part of the crop priced before that time.

CUT FIREWOOD NOW

Cutting firewood for this winter is probably the last thing on your mind in the August heat. But it's time to get started if you want good wood this winter.

It's only a few months before cold weather, and that's barely enough time for firewood to season properly. Without seasoned wood, it's a waste of money and space.

By cutting firewood now, you will be sure of getting the most heat this winter. If you wait till September or October, the wood won't have enough time to dry.

Increase safety

Farm accidents can cut profits

At a time when profits seem to elude cotton producers more and more, there may be one profit-saving technique that producers and neglecting to consider.

Increasing safety procedures and lowering insurance rates may be another way to cut operating costs and capture profits.

Dannie Reed, a farm safety specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, said farm accidents cost insurance companies millions of dollars each year.

"When insurance companies have to pay claims, the farmer ends up having to pay, too," Reed said. "Rates go up and farmers must pay losses and carrying charges in their premiums."

Reed said some cases involving a fatality or large law suit may endanger the assets of the farm. Even small accidents result in farmers having to pay higher payments for workmen's compensation, comprehensive and liability premiums.

These increasing premiums and even the threat of insurance cancellations are real problems that are growing too large to be neglected, Reed said. Simple mistakes or negligence cause most of the costly accidents.

In 1985, three accidents stemming from improper use or absence of safety hitch pins, safety chains and trailer lights resulted in three fatalities, five injuries and more than $1 million in settlements.

"Most of these type accidents can be prevented by following simple safety precautions and adopting a safety management plan," Reed said.

Equipment operators should be trained in the safe operation of any and all equipment they may be required to operate. Tractor drivers should wear seat belts or use tractor equipment with roll-over protective structures.

The unsafe transport of wide field equipment, heavy trailers and loaded wagons cause many of the farm-related highway accidents each year. These accidents could be prevented by following correct safety procedures.

"Worn or old equipment such as missing power take-off guards and deteriorated anhydrous ammonia hoses are also accidents waiting to happen," Reed said.

The purchase of inexpensive safety equipment such as safety glasses, steel-toed boots and disposable chemical respirators for workers can save thousands of dollars in accident claims each year.

"Just by following basic safety procedures and maintaining a farm safety management program, producers are increasing their profit potential," Reed said. "Producers who are ready to make changes in, or establish a safety program, should contact the local county Extension office."

Training materials and safety programs are available and a meeting to provide safety training for workers and managers may be arranged.

"If producers are not practicing safety management, their accidents may seem almost uncontrollable," Reed added. "Just improving safety conditions and procedures on the farm could cost less and pay more than anything else this year."

Mississippi Forestry Commission

Tree seedling prices for the 1986 nursery crop, effective July 1, have been announced by the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Seedling deliveries from the three Commission Nurseries at Mt. Olive, Winona and Waynesboro will not begin until the start of the planting season in December of this year.

Loblolly, Longleaf and Slash pines may be purchased only in bundles of one thousand; while hardwood species (Green Ash, Sawtooth Oak, Sycamore, Cherry Bark Oak, Bald Cypress and Yellow Poplar) may be purchased in bundles of 1,000, 500, 250 and 100 seedlings.

Improved Loblolly and Slash seedlings are being offered this year for the first time at 28 dollars per thousand, nursery pickup and 29 dollars delivered to the county.

The prices for regular Loblolly and Slash pine seedlings are the same as in 1985. (20 dollars per thousand, nursery pickup, 21 dollars per thousand for county delivery.)

Regular Longleaf pine seedling prices also remain the same as last year at 25 and 27 dollars respectively.

Hardwood prices likewise remain unchanged from the previous year. All five hardwood species may be bought for 75 dollars per thousand if picked up at one of the nurseries, or 83 dollars delivered to the county. Orders for bundles of hardwoods that contain less than 1,000 will be sold at a directly proportionate rate (e.g. 500 = 37.50 and 41.50, 250 for 18.75 for nursery pickup and 20.75 for county delivered, etc.)

Seedling order blanks are available from any Forestry Commission office. In many counties the county agent can supply an order form.

Commenting on the first-ever sale of improved or so-called "super seedlings" State Forester Robert S. "Sid" Moss had this to say:

"These improved trees will undoubtedly be snapped up quickly by private tree growers who have been wanting them for years. Although the genetic superiority of our improved seedlings is well established (meaning they should grow faster, bigger, etc.) landowners should not hesitate to order and plant any of the regular seedlings we grow. They are all from seed carefully collected from selected good sites," he declared.

Moss said the improved trees would be sold on a first come, first served basis and that no out-of-state orders will be accepted unless there is a surplus of seedlings toward the end of planting season.

Commission County Foresters will also help landowners find a good source of tree seed if they want to do some direct seeding this winter.

Financial assistance is available via several Federal and State Forestry incentive programs. Ask your County Forester.

Today is the final day of the tenth annual Pass Christian Seafood Festival.

Gates open at 11 a.m. at War Memorial Park.

The festival offers a wide variety of seafoods, arts and crafts in addition to live entertainment at 5 p.m. today.

Proceeds from the festival go to St. Paul's Catholic School.

This would be a good time to get mother out of the kitchen and enjoy some good seafood and fun.

It is our understanding, it has been a good year for the steam-driven locomotive at Port Bienville. The engine, a 1925 Baldwin, reminds us of days gone by when we rode trains back and forth to New Orleans.

The train operates on Saturdays and Sundays with runs scheduled at 1, 3 and 5 p.m. Passenger car is also restored from an era when rail travel was popular in the U.S.

The railway museum is operated by the Mississippi Railway Inc., a group of dedicated volunteers.

In case you do not know where Port Bienville is, it is located off Ansley Road off U.S. 90 west of the Bay-Waveland area.

The ride is really a thrill, especially to children.

Special rides are available for groups of 25 or more. For information call 601-268-9099.

In case you have forgotten, there are only a few days left for renewal of new membership in the Mobile Medic Ambulance Service, which could possibly save you much money in the event of sickness or accident.

We have already sent in our renewal for membership.

An advertisement appears in this issue of the Echo for your convenience.

It is good to see the City of Waveland leaders are considering changing the position of dog warden from part-time to full-time.

Hancock County Animal Commission and Hancock County Humane Society have really done wonders in helping to control animal populations.

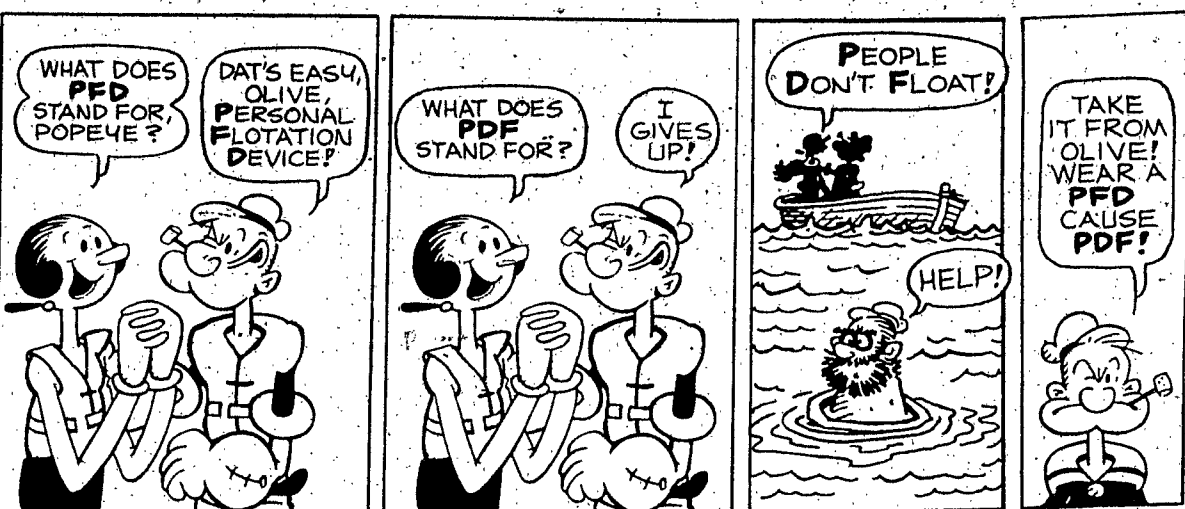

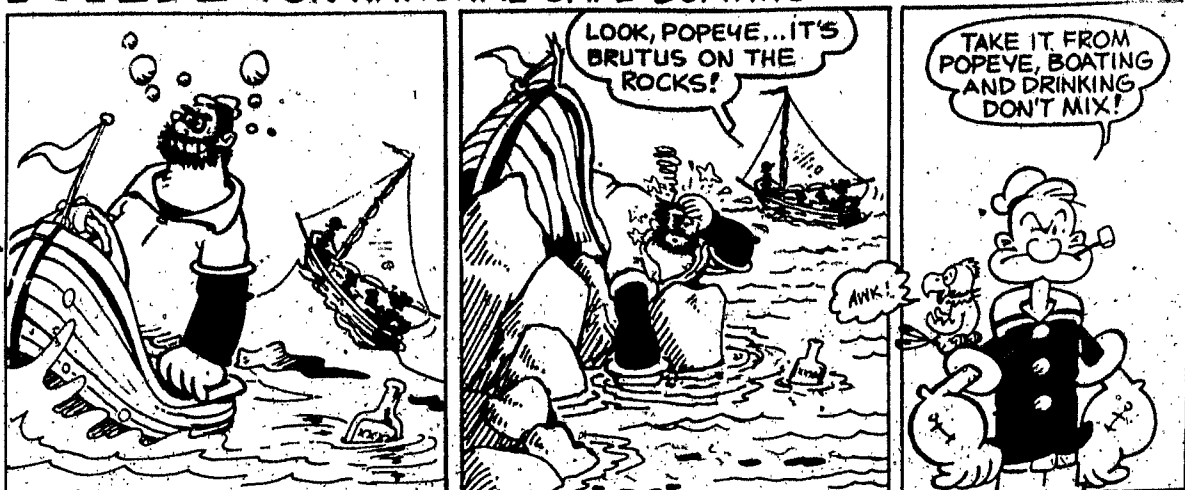

Without the dedication of those folks, our county, as the saying goes, would be "running over with cats and dogs."

The number of animals processed at the shelter behind Waveland Fire Station No. 2 on Gulfside Drive is well over 1,000 per year.

Many of our citizens have adopted a dog or cat from the shelter which always has a waiting list of animals looking for a good home.

Keep up the good work, Folks.

POPEYE—FOR NATIONAL SAFE BOATING

Elderly should take precautions to avoid heat problems

The heat wave that has engulfed Mississippi in recent weeks can be especially dangerous for the elderly, and the Mississippi Council on Aging (MCOA), Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, advises senior citizens to take steps to prevent heat-related problems.

"Widening of blood vessels to transfer heat from the body core to the skin and sweating are the body's mechanisms for heat loss," said Dr. Edward M. Lowicki, a Jackson physician, member of MCOA and an authority on health issues relating to the elderly.

"But, as we get older, these mechanisms do not function as well, so the elderly must be careful to avoid long exposure to heat. This is especially true of persons with diabetes, heart and circulatory diseases and those who have suffered strokes."

Heat stroke and heat exhaustion are the dangerous problems which could result from overexposure to hot weather.

Heat stroke is the most serious, Lowicki said. It is a medical emergency requiring immediate attention and treatment by a physician. Among the symptoms are faintness, dizziness, headache, nausea, loss of consciousness, flushed skin, rapid pulse and a body temperature of 104 F or higher.

Heat exhaustion, which takes longer to develop than heat stroke, results from a loss of body water and salt. Symptoms include weakness, heavy sweating, nausea and giddiness. Bed rest away from the heat and drinking cool liquids is the best treatment.

"The best precaution during hot spells," MCOA Director Dr. David K. Brown said, "is to remain indoors in an air-conditioned room. If your home is not air-conditioned, you might go to a cool public place, such as a library, movie theater or store, during the hottest hours."

"Also, many cities and towns provide heat shelters for older persons in senior centers and nutrition sites. Check with your local area agency on aging for information on locally available shelters."

Good ways to cool off recommended by MCOA include taking cool baths or showers, placing icebags or wet towels on the body and using electric fans. In addition, the elderly should stay out of direct sunlight and avoid strenuous activity; wear light-colored, loose-fitting clothing that permits sweat to evaporate; and drink plenty of liquids such as water, fruit and vegetable juices and iced tea.

But avoid alcoholic beverages and fluids high in salt that might complicate existing health problems, such as high blood pressure. Salt tablets should be used only with a physician's approval.

Because certain medications can cause problems in heat, MCOA recommends that the elderly consult with a physician before taking any medicine during hot weather.

"Above all," Brown warned, "take the heat seriously, and don't ignore danger signs like nausea, dizziness and fatigue."

For additional information on subjects relating to the elderly, contact the Mississippi Council on Aging at 949-2013 from the Jackson area or the toll-free Governor's Service Line, 1-800-222-7622, from other parts of the state.

Constitution Commission wants shorter, clearer document

By: Brad Chism

The Constitutional Study Commission met again on July 24 to consider the Legislative Branch of state government.

Its decisions on the size structure and powers of the state Legislature will be combined with other recommendations on state and local government in a report to Governor Allain this fall.

Throughout the study process, the commission has vowed to be as brief and concise as possible.

The new Constitution, members say, should be short and clear enough to be understood by the average citizen. A major fault of the 1890 Constitution is its extreme length and complicated detail.

Because few lawyers and an even smaller number of other Mississippians understand the document, it has often been ignored. This practice is unwise if the Constitution is meant to be a framework of principles for governing.

A clearcut statement on fundamental government structure, power and responsibility provides every citizen a guide on how the state should be run. It encourages participation in government by making the basic rules common knowledge.

A concise Constitution also discourages abuse since fewer people can use the screen of complicated language to disregard the law.

The Constitutional Commission hopes to further democracy in Mississippi with a shorter, clearer new state Constitution.

Another benefit arises from brevity in constitutional language. As a general rule, the less wordy a constitutional section, the more easily it can be applied to changing times. For example, a Mississippi provision setting a specific interest payment toward a school fund can hurt education if other interest rates rise.

Similarly, a section which allows the state to educate children between the ages of 6 and 21 ignores kindergarten and graduate studies, a must in today's society.

A third example of extremely detailed language can be found in the sections on Chancery and Circuit courts. The Constitution specifies at least 2 sessions per year of each court in all counties.

Issaquena County with only 2500 people may not need this many sessions. People in Hinds County, with one hundred times as many residents, consider this section irrelevant given the case load which requires continuous session.

The committees within the Study Commission have been careful to eliminate unnecessary wording where possible. The Article on Corporations has been shortened from 22 sections to 4, with all the safeguards against unfair business practices held intact.

The Commission was unanimous in its support for these revisions, which seem to have the added advantage of being attractive to industries looking to move to Mississippi.

Two entire articles of the state Constitution are being considered for replacement by a single section for each topic. The state militia took up 9 sections of the 1890 Constitution with specific wording on even the ages for draft and officers of rank.

The Executive Branch Committee felt that these constitutional matters could be addressed more succinctly. Again the Commission agreed, with the strong support of the state military's highest officer, that a single provision could take care of the entire subject.

Although final action is pending on the matter of penitentiaries and prisons, the 4 sections on this subject are likely to be consolidated into one single statement placing the authority to regulate penal institutions with the Legislature. No opposition to this proposal has surfaced.

Perhaps the most impressive example of updating the Constitution can be found in the sections dealing with levee boards. Flood control was of such great interest in 1890 that the drafters of the Constitution wrote 13 sections on the composition and function of levee boards.

This extremely detailed language was considered necessary to ensure the well-being of the Mississippi Delta inhabitants and their property. Ninety-six years have made several of these sections obsolete and unworkable.

Without abandoning the commitment to flood protection in the Delta, one committee has revised the language making it both shorter and more flexible.

The wording of a single new section is about one-eighth the length of the previous sections dealing with the levee system.

Members of the Levee Board, the governing body of the Mississippi River levees, have expressed support for these revisions.

Martin Marietta honored for safety record

The National Safety Council has recognized Martin Marietta Michoud Aerospace for achieving the best safety record among firms in the guided missile and space vehicles and equipment industry.

The council is a private, nonprofit, public service organization providing leadership in safety to its 12,000 members.

The safety council presented its "Best Record" Award of Honor to Martin Marietta.

During the 18-month period from August 1984 through February 1986, Michoud Aerospace employees worked 15,809,488 hours without an occupational injury or illness involving days away from work.

According to the National Safety Council, this is the best safety record ever achieved by a guided missile and space vehicle manufacturer.

Martin Marietta employs more than 4,000 people at NASA's Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans where the company manufactures huge external propellant tanks for the Space Shuttle. To date, the company has delivered 39 external tanks.

The firm is under contract to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

ETV Brief

SHORT STORIES

"Wodehouse Playhouse" presents dramatizations of the short stories of humorist P. G. Wodehouse at 6:30 p.m., Saturdays, beginning August 2, on Mississippi ETV. The popular series was first broadcast on ETV in 1979.

The series stars John Alderton and Pauline Colling, who are more than hero and heroine of each story: the size of their roles varies. In some they are not even the leads, and, in at least one, Alderton is the villain. Their characters vary from poets to scratch golfers from star-crossed lovers to conjurers.

"They are set in the Wodehouse never-never time," producer David Askey has said, "so we have plumped from 1927 to 1930 as our period. I anticipate some pungent remarks from both social historians and Wodehouse devotees, but I hope we have combined nostalgia, style and taste."

Webb School named Mississippi Landmark

The Webb School in Bay St. Louis was recently designated a Mississippi Landmark by the Permit Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Department of Archives and History.

Webb School was constructed in 1913 at a cost of $4,130 and named for R. W. Webb, alderman of the fourth ward, who was largely responsible for obtaining funding for the project. This Colonial Revival Style building was the first elementary school in Bay St. Louis.

"Mississippi Landmark" status is awarded to properties that have been reviewed and found architecturally, culturally, or historically significant to the development of Mississippi history.

While public buildings automatically fall under the jurisdiction of the Permit Committee, private property owners must request that they be designated.

The property is then protected from alteration or destruction under the Antiquities Law of Mississippi. The Mississippi Landmark program is administered by the Department of Archives and History.

Very important part of lives

Textile uses go far beyond clothing

By Karen L. Moore
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Many people believe the only use for textiles is for products such as clothing, linens, carpet and upholstery. But there are many other uses that become important parts of our lives.

"Textiles are used for a lot of medical purposes such as implants and hospital clothing and military and space clothing," said Beth Duncan, clothing and textiles specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. "Textiles are also used for construction purposes and in sports equipment."

Mrs. Duncan explained how textiles are used for these various purposes:

* An artificial kidney encased in a two-inch by eight-inch tube, contains 7,000 hollow rayon fibers, she said. The blood from a patient passes through this artificial kidney, removes the impurities and returns the cleansed blood to the patient's system.

* A similar system uses hollow nylon fibers to produce pure water from the sea and other impure sources. The water goes to areas experiencing shortages of pure water.

* Manmade fibers are making vehicles lighter and more fuel efficient. Hoses, V belts, tires and body panels, in addition to seat belts, head and trunk liners, trim panels, vinyl and convertible tops and carpeting are some of the uses of fiber in vehicles.

* The Jarvik VII artificial heart was made possible by polyester quick-connect fittings and polyester velour padding for patient comfort. It is encased in a polyester mesh fabric.

* Manmade fibers provide bandages that stretch, don't stick to wounds and in some cases, don't dissolve.

* Sterile non-woven coverings made of synthetic and cotton fibers are used on operating tables, in surgeons' masks and disposable gowns for hospital patients.

Davison attends cosmetics meeting

Jane Davison, owner of the Merle Norman Studio in Waveland, recently attended the company's 55th annual convention at the Fontainebleau Hilton in Miami Beach, Florida.

Approximately 2,000 people represented Merle Norman Studios located throughout the United States and Canada.

The theme of this year's convention was "New Horizons." Special seminars were held on the various aspects of the cosmetic business including merchandising, advertising, marketing and public relations.

"The new products and colors are sensational! I know our customers will be as excited about them as we are," said Davison.

* Nomex and other fire-resistant fibers insure safety when used in pajamas, bed linens, mattress covers and curtains.

* Nylon and polyester fabrics go into end uses such as inflatable buildings for warehouses and tennis courts.

* Glass fibers and fabrics are used in computers, televisions, appliances, automobiles, communication systems and electronic games.

* Acrylic, polyester and polypropylene fabrics provide the agricultural industry with everything from seed and fertilizer bags to crop storage containers and shade fabrics.

* Some NASA garments are 100 percent cotton. Some military garments include whole-body suits with the ability to absorb toxic gases and protect a soldier in gas warfare. Special dyeing and printing methods have produced infrared-reflecting camouflage clothing for troops making them invisible to infrared scopes at night, she said.

* Rubber-coated textiles serve as bottom liners to prevent ground seepage of stored water for farm ponds and city water supplies.

* Underlayment potholes or a whole road bed with textile non-woven material improves the stability and durability of the road or patched area.

* In sports, textiles are partly responsible for the super performance of golf clubs, tennis racquets and fishing rods.

Disability protection...

Most Americans don't have a long-term disability policy because of neglect, or because they think Social Security and their employer have it covered.

Less than one in five workers have long-term disability coverage from their employers. Social Security Disability Insurance is hard to get because you are not considered disabled unless you are unable to do any substantial gainful work — not just your current job that fits your training.

You also have to expect the disability to last at least one year for SSDI benefits to be approved. SSDI requires that you have worked in a job covered by it for five of the last 10 years to qualify. The exception to this is if you become disabled before age 31.

Study the provisions in your policy if you do have coverage through work. Look at how your work policy defines disability. Find out how long you are covered by the plan. Some plans cover to age 65. Some only cover a five-year period, barely meeting the minimum required for being considered a long-term policy.

With private disability policies, premiums are a major factor. Insurers won't cover your entire salary. The higher your salary, the smaller the portion you can protect. Benefits for a private policy are tax-free. Those received from an employer's plan are not. For someone in the 50 percent tax bracket, a private policy that pays one-third of your salary would replace about 66 percent of your after-tax income.

Key considerations for a private disability policy include:

- Cost of living adjustments (COLA) for inflation protection;
- Guaranteed future insurability

so you can increase coverage as salary increases;

--Residual rider for partial disability coverage allowing you to work part-time;

--Guaranteed renewability of policy; and

--Length of elimination period (time between salary stopping and disability beginning) versus cost and how quickly coverage is needed.

Pass teachers complete inservice training program

The Pass Christian Municipal Separate School District recently conducted inservice training for administrators and selected teachers on the Program for Effective Teachers (PET).

PET is a staff development program which teaches teachers and administrators to identify the essential elements for teaching any instructional lesson and how to analyze teaching in terms of those elements.

The five-day program emphasizes teaching as a decision-making process. It provides educators with the skills, knowledge and strategies needed in making instructional decisions that cause learning to be more probable and more predictably successful.

Based on actual classroom research by noted educational researchers, the program addresses five observable, measurable instructional skills. Assisting teachers and administrators to be more effective, efficient and relevant are the aims of the program.

The instructor of the program actually models the skills as he teaches the program. Participants are actively involved in all sessions through questioning, activities, modeling and performance of skills in lesson demonstrations.

In addition, the participants are shown how the skills can enhance a school's learning climate, instructional focus, and the instructional leadership of the principal and the administrators.

The program instructor, Dr. George E. Rice, authored the PET manual, 'The Peanut Butter and Jelly Guide to Teaching,' used in the program.

Rice has been a teacher, principal and superintendent of schools in Arkansas. He is presently president of ETSL, Inc., an educational consulting firm.

"THOU SHALT NOT STEAL"

—(Romans 13:9)

God has always taught the right of private property. This right is fundamental to a healthy society. In recent years respect for private ownership of property has reached a new low in the minds of many in our society.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation releases annually statistics for crime in the United States. The latest statistics are for 1984.

Robbery including highway, commercial house, gas station, convenience stores, residence and bank occurred 409,000 times.

Averaging $600,000 per instance.

Burglary (residence and non-residence) occurred 2,652,000 times. Larceny including pocket picking, purse snatching, shoplifting, from motor vehicles, motor vehicle accessories, from buildings, and from coin-operated machines occurred 5,899,000 times. (National Data Book and Guide Sources Abstract of the United States, 1986).

The above statistics indicate moral teaching and moral learning is not taking place in many homes today.

Because Adam and Eve ate of the forbidden fruit, God cursed the ground. In the Garden of Eden, they could eat of all of the trees but one. In this paradise they could live forever.

When changed things, God said, "Cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it: the days of thy life, thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth unto thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field; in sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground: for dust thou art and unto dust shalt thou return." (Genesis 3:17-19)

From the beginning man has been expected to work for his living. Today far too many seem to believe the world owes them a living without effort on their part.

In the law God gave to Moses on Mt. Sinai, is the command "Thou shalt not steal." (Exodus 20:15)

In Exodus, Chapter 22:1-15, we have the Mosaic laws concerning restitution of things stolen.

Examples are: "If as man shall steal an ox, or a sheep, and kill it: he shall restore five oxen for an ox and four sheep for a sheep. If a thief be found breaking up (entering the premises), and be smitten that he die, there shall no blood be shed for him." (Exodus 22:1-2)

In the New Testament, we learn stealing is still a sin against God. Paul stated, "For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work neither should he eat." (II Thessalonians 3:10) Paul also wrote, "Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth." (Ephesians 4:28)

The thief (one who steals) cannot go to heaven. Paul said, "Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God. Be not deceived: Neither fornicators, nor thieves...shall inherit the kingdom of God." (I Corinthians 6:9-10)

Those who own property may steal. Exorbitant prices for products and starvation wages have often put people in oppression.

In a warning to the rich James said, "Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl, for your miseries that come upon you. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth eaten. Your gold and silver is cankered; and rust of them shall be as a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days. Behold, the hire of the laborers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth; and the cries of them have heaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth." (James 5:1-4) The property owner who cheats his fellow man is a thief.

May our love for the Lord and our fellowman cause us to have the right attitude toward the earnings of another.

USM career test set in Picayune

PICAYUNE—University of Southern Mississippi personnel will administer a "Career Interest Inventory" test in Picayune Monday, July 28, at the junior high school annex.

The 5:30 p.m. test given by representatives of USM Adult Studies and Adult Services programs is designed to help prospective students determine the careers for which they are best suited.

Participants may register by calling the toll-free number 1-800-CALL-USM and asking for extension 4848. Participants will be notified of a time to discuss test results with personnel of the USM Career Development Center.

If desired, USM personnel also will help participants develop a plan to reach career goals. A $5 fee will be charged for the test and consultation.

The career test is a follow-up project to a July 17 visit in Picayune by the "Eagle Express" motor home. USM representatives during that visit explained university services and programs available in Picayune, including classes to be taught in the city.

On August 19, at 6:30 p.m., registration will be held at the junior high school annex for persons interested in enrolling in USM classes to be taught in Picayune during the fall semester. For more information, call the toll-free number listed above and ask for extension 4210.

Representatives of the university also will be in Jackson County Friday to administer the career interest inventory.

The testing will begin at 10 a.m. at the USM building on Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College campus in Gautier. Area residents may take the test at no charge, but reservations are required by calling 497-3636.

The career inventory is used as part of a decision-making process to link individual interest with related jobs. The testing is designed to aid people in choosing a field for either a first-time career or a career change. A few weeks following the test, USM representatives will contact participants to schedule a return session for an evaluation. Counselors will be available to assist in planning a course of action to meet career goals or potential.

Coordinator of Adult Services Diane Wagner said, "It's exciting to see the program helping people. The inventory helps unsure individuals begin moving in a positive new direction."

Memorial fund softball tournament schedule

The First Annual Mississippi Veterans Memorial Fund Softball Tournament is to be held on August 16 and 17 at Commagere Field in Bay St. Louis.

The MVMF Committee is sponsoring a men's and women's softball tournament, double elimination, with trophies for first, second, third and fourth places in the men's teams and first, second and third in the ladies.

An entrance fee of $70 per men's team and $60 per ladies' team will be payable from time of entry to the morning of the first day of play.

All interested teams are asked to contact no later than noon Wednesday, July 30, either Frank Perniciaro, 467-5626; Curtis Tarravouille, 467-4645; or Ernest Beckmeyer at The Good Life, 467-9037.

All games will have certified umpires. Games will commence at 9 a.m. on both days of play, Saturday August 16 and Sunday August 17.

A Beer Drinking Trophy and tee-shirts will be presented to the team enjoying the most of their favorite beverage.

As a special attraction there will be a Home-Run Contest with a trophy going to the winner.

For this contest there will be a $2 per person entry fee. The concession stand will be operating with lots of good food, plenty of ice cold drinks, and etc.

The MVMF Committee is a non-profit group formed to construct and maintain one of the largest veterans memorials in the South, to be dedicated to all of Mississippi's men and women who gave so much of themselves, and in many cases their lives, at home and in foreign lands to preserve freedom and protect the American way of life.

"This memorial, a show to all people, our love, admiration, and gratitude is also our solemn promise that they will never be forgotten," Beckmeyer said.

ETV Brief

CANAL 'DIGGERS'

They called them "diggers," the black men who came from the West Indies to work on the Panama Canal. In a construction period that spanned 33 years, from 1881 to 1914, more than 100,000 diggers worked on the canal. They proved to be the backbone of an engineering feat that was hailed as the "Eighth Wonder of the World."

A documentary film paying tribute to the primary role—previously unrecognized—of these men in the building of the canal will be broadcast at 9 p.m., Wednesday, July 30, on Mississippi ETV.

Interviews, historic photos and archival footage chronicle the history—political, social and technological—of the Great Canal from the failed French construction initiative to its completion and operation under the Americans.

Pre-building decisions seal energy fate in home

MISSISSIPPI STATE — The time to consider doing something about energy bills is when remodeling or building a new home.

"The decisions you make before you touch a hammer or pull out a tape measure will seal your energy fate," said Bob Mayo, a Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service engineer.

"Energy-saving measures will add onto the building or remodeling expenses so you will need to figure out how long the pay-off will take. Some may not be worth the wait, others will pay off quickly."

Mayo provided tips to minimize energy consumption for prospective home builders.

Check the site for the new home and judge its energy value. Try to locate the home on a southern slope to get the most benefits from the sun. Build the home into a hill so the soil can insulate against weather. Use trees to provide a wind break and help reduce heat loss. Plan to add trees and shrubs if the site doesn't have hills or trees.

The second tip is for site orientation. Use southern exposure to allow the sun to shine in, Mayo said. An east-west ridge orientation is best. A well-designed roof overhang can protect the southern wall in the summer and allow it to be warmed by the winter sun. Roof overhangs of 24 to 30 inches are best in Mississippi.

Protect the north and west sides of the home from winds by adding landscaping or fences. Shade the western wall with trees that lose their leaves in the fall so they will block the summer sun and allow the winter sun to warm the wall.

Look at the house plans. Make sure you have enough space to meet your needs but don't overbuild. Overbuilding results in higher energy bills, Mayo said.

To build an energy-efficient home or to remodel, build a home or addition with a minimum of outside surface exposed. A square house exposes the least amount of wall space so it suffers less heat loss than an oblong or spread-out design.

A two-story or split-level home will lose less heat than a sprawling ranch style. Mayo advised builders or remodelers to study the number, size and location of windows and doors. Glass is a poor insulator so walls of windows don't help energy bills.

"Decide on the least number of windows you can tolerate and be team would have been summoned from Camp Shelby, located off Highway 49 in Forrest County, if a bomb had been found.

Bregard said the Hancock County Sheriff's Department was also notified about the call.

The incident is under investigation.

reasonable about size," Mayo said.

"Use carefully fitted, double-glazed windows and/or storm windows. Plan more windows on the south side of the house to take advantage of the winter sunshine. Install draperies, blinds or shades to help insulate windows."

Although they are popular, sliding glass doors will raise energy bills. Choose double-glazed glass in the smallest size door to suit you. Make them tight fitting and add weather stripping. Wood frames around glass doors insulate better than aluminum. In winter, cover glass doors with insulated drapes.

Plan doors to separate rooms and use them to concentrate heat in areas where it is needed. Lower the temperature in unused rooms.

"The time to insulate is during construction," Mayo said. "It will never be easier to insulate than when walls and ceilings are open. Don't skimp! Use the maximum recommended R-value of R-38 for ceilings, and R-19 for walls and floors."

Stuff insulation into every possible opening and crack, especially around windows, doors, corners and electrical boxes and wiring. Use a caulking gun to caulk where the wall meets the floor. It's inexpensive insurance against energy loss.

Once insulation is in and the walls are up, look to the lighting. Plan ahead. Use light colors for walls, ceilings and carpeting. Lighter tones on the ceiling than on the wall will help to reflect light back into a room.

For more information on energy-efficient houses, contact your local county Extension office.

Clubs, Auxiliaries

Bayou Cadet VFW Auxiliary Unit No. 4808

Bayou Cadet Memorial Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4808 was recently honored with several awards at the State VFW convention in Tupelo.

State awards received this year during award period July 1, 1985 to June 30, 1986 were:

First place:

- 1) Membership with 180.76%, highest in the state;
- 2) Cancer Aid and Research
- 3) Safety Program
- 4) Americanism and Loyalty

Second Place:

- 1) Hospital Work
- 2) Youth Activities

Other honors received during the term of District I president Lucille Boudreaux's administration are: Membership Award, Cancer, P.A.C., Reporting, Cancer Aid and Research, Americanism, Community Activities Program and Safety.

Also, individual plaques were presented to Myra Spiess, president, and Audrey Heyd, secretary-treasurer of Post 4808 Ladies Auxiliary for "Support and Understanding."

Spiess and the ladies auxiliary of Post 4808 would like to congratulate Lucille Boudreaux for being chosen as 'District President of the Year' and to thank her for her assistance in helping to achieve all of the awards we received.

Although the above achievements reflect a great year, the ladies are aiming for greater goals in 1986-87. The auxiliary meets at the new post home on Lower Bay Road 0.3 miles west of Lakeshore Road.

American Legion Auxiliary

You are invited to join the American Legion Auxiliary because you are, first, eligible through the willingness of your brother, husband, son, father or grandfather to serve in the military and/or his membership in the American Legion; and second, because you are a concerned and caring woman.

Auxiliary membership means more than just joining a patriotic organization, it means an investment that can affect the lives of millions of Americans - veterans of four wars, their dependents and the taxpayers in your community. It can affect you.

Right now, benefits earned and deserved by 28.5 million veterans are threatened by proposed Veterans Administration budget cuts. This fact may not concern you personally at this moment, but it could in the future.

Today it is vitally important to those who must depend on VA medical and rehabilitative services.

Proposed budget cuts would not only impose a hardship on veterans, drastic cuts would have a negative financial impact on VA health care facilities and outreach programs in our state, perhaps in our community.

These facilities are important to all Americans because they represent medical training facilities, jobs for thousands as well as goods and services furnished by business in your community such as paper, food and other necessary supplies.

Cutbacks could cause hardships for more than just a percent of the veteran population. That is why your membership is so important.

With the American Legion, the auxiliary represents a strong and powerful force for the veteran, a power that is respected and felt in Washington, D.C. by the Congress.

Your voice is needed to retain the combined legion and auxiliary power so neither the veteran nor the taxpayer loses as a result of crises cuts to the federal budget.

Deficit spending must be curbed, but not at the expense of you and your veteran.

Becoming a member of the American Legion and the Auxiliary is a very worthwhile investment. You are important to every veteran, every citizen.

We proudly invite you to participate in our revival of patriotism. Join us and other Americans who raise with honor the grand emblem of our country's freedom, our distinctive American Flag.

Let independence be our boost, remembering always what it cost.

The American Legion and the Auxiliary stand behind the motto, "For God and Country."

Guest stars to host public radio show

When radio show host and author Garrison Keillor takes a vacation this month, he'll tune to his own program, "A Prairie Home Companion," to hear live concerts by Emmylou Harris, Taj Mahal, Doc Watson and Chet Atkins.

The programs will be broadcast on Public Radio in Mississippi (PRM) at 5 p.m. on three consecutive Saturdays, August 2, 9 and 16.

On August 2, Emmylou Harris and her Hot Band take center stage. Harris has won more Grammy Awards than any other female country singer.

Taj Mahal will host the August 9 performance, which also features guitarist Doc Watson. Taj Mahal, a familiar guest to "A Prairie Home Companion" fans, is a master showman who is widely recognized for revitalizing traditional country blues and digging into the roots of black musical experience.

Doc Watson is probably best known for helping to preserve the traditional ballads and melodies of southern Appalachia.

The August 16 program features country great Chet Atkins, one of the all-time great innovators and influences in the history of the guitar.

PRM, a division of Mississippi ETV, can be heard statewide at the FM frequency 90.3 from Biloxi.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
OFFICE OF THE STATE AUDITOR
November 5, 1985
RAY MARBUS
State Auditor
POST OFFICE BOX 958
JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI 39205-0958
(601) 359-3581
Members of the Board of Supervisors
Hancock County, Mississippi
We have examined the combined financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi, as of and for the year ended September 30, 1984, as listed in the table of contents. Except as set forth in the following paragraph, our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
The financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi, for the year ended September 30, 1983 were examined by other auditors whose report dated June 5, 1985 expressed an opinion qualified for the effect of such adjustments, if any, as might have been necessary had they been able to substantiate the valuation of fixed assets. The county does not maintain an accurate inventory or adequate subsidiary records documenting the valuation of roads, buildings and other fixed assets, as presented in the General Fixed Assets Account Group of the accompanying Combined Balance Sheet - All Fund Types and Account Groups.
In our opinion, except for the effect of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to substantiate the valuation of roads, buildings and other fixed assets as discussed in the preceding paragraph, the combined financial statements referred to above present fairly the financial position of Hancock County, Mississippi, at September 30, 1984, and the results of its operations and the changes in financial position of its proprietary fund types for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.
Our examination was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the combined financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying supplemental schedules referred to in the supplemental section in the table of contents are presented for the purpose of additional analysis and are not necessary for a fair presentation or a required part of the combined financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi. These supplemental schedules have been subjected to the tests and other auditing procedures applied in the examination of the combined financial statements mentioned above and, in our opinion, are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the combined financial statements taken as a whole.
In connection with our examination, we also (1) performed test of compliance with the revenue sharing act and regulations described in the "Comments on the Audit Requirements of the 1983 Amendments to the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act" issued by the Office of Revenue Sharing, U.S. Department of the Treasury, and (2) compared the data on the appropriate Bureau of Census form to the records of Hancock County, Mississippi. Our findings are set forth under the heading "Findings and Recommendations" in this report.

Schedule 5

HANCOCK COUNTY

Schedule of Findings and Recommendations
September 30, 1984

Section 7-7-21(d), Miss. Code Ann. (1972), places the responsibility for conducting the county's audit with the State Auditor's office. Specifically, this office is to post-audit and, when deemed necessary, pre-audit and investigate the financial affairs of the offices, boards and commissions of county government and departments and institutions thereof. In addition to the legal compliance tests normally performed during a financial audit, testing was made of all legal requirements which apply to counties. The following findings resulted from these tests and the associated recommendations are provided to resolve the problems.

(1) Board of Supervisors.

Budgets:

Section 19-11-11, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires that a budget be prepared for all funds. All funds are not budgeted. We recommend that all funds be budgeted in accordance with the aforementioned section.

Section 19-11-17, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), states that no expenditures shall be made, or liabilities incurred, or warrants issued, in excess of the budget estimates as finally determined by the board of supervisors, or as thereafter revised under the provisions of this chapter. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall make the members of the board of supervisors voting for same, and the surety upon their official bonds, liable for the full amount of the claim allowed, the contract entered into, or the public work provided for. The budget estimates for the audited fiscal year were not in compliance with this section. We recommend that budget estimates not be exceeded as required by the aforementioned section.

Section 19-11-19, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), provides for the revision of the county budget and that revisions as herein authorized shall not be deemed to permit any expenditures in excess of the various items of the county budget as then approved. The county budget was not revised in compliance with this section. We recommend that budget revisions be made in accordance with the aforementioned section.

(2) Chancery Clerk.

Settlement of Mineral Documentary Stamp Tax:

Section 27-31-85, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires mineral stamp collections be settled by the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding that in which collection is made. Schedule 6 is an exception to a cash shortage in mineral stamp collections and settlements. We recommend collections be settled in accordance with the aforementioned section.

Settlement of Land Redemption Collections:

Section 27-45-1, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires that land redemption collections be settled within twenty days after the end of each month in which collection is made. The land redemption account in Hancock County was short in the amount of $398.45, indicating settlement had not been made. This amount was paid to the land redemption account when called to the attention of the chancery clerk. We recommend collections be settled in accordance with the aforementioned section.

Allowance for Copying Assessment Rolls:

Section 25-3-21, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), states that the board of supervisors may allow its clerk reasonable compensation for making copies of the assessment rolls, not to exceed 1 1/2 cents for each personal assessment or 3 cents for each assessment of lands per copy (up to two copies), but the board of supervisors may allow as much as one hundred fifty dollars in any case for copying the personal roll, and each copy thereof shall be considered a roll. Schedule 7 is an exception to an overpayment on compensation for making copies of the assessment rolls. We recommend the aforementioned section be complied with.

Schedule 6

HANCOCK COUNTY

Schedule of Findings and Recommendations
September 30, 1984

Undocumented Cash:

Section 25-1-71, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), states that all money deposited with any depository by or for an officer having custody of public funds is prima facie public money and a trust fund. During the audited fiscal year the chancery clerk had undocumented cash. When brought to the attention of the chancery clerk an effort was begun to document the cash. We recommend this effort be continued until all cash is defined.

(3) Tax Collector/Assessor.

Undocumented Cash Excess:

Section 27-1-13, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), states that the tax collector shall pay monthly to the appropriate political subdivision all taxes and fees collected by his office. During the period under review, the tax collector had an excess of undocumented cash. We recommend that all collections by the tax collector be settled on a timely basis. Schedule 8 contains an exception taken on an unsettled cash excess in the tax collector's office.

(4) Sheriff.

Receipts and Expenses of the Sheriff's Office:

Section 19-25-13, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires the sheriff's budget to be approved by the board of supervisors and the sheriff shall file a report of all expenses of his office incurred during the preceding month with the board of supervisors for approval at its regular monthly meeting. This section further requires all fees and charges for services collected by the sheriff shall be paid monthly into the General Fund of the county. During the audited fiscal year, certain purchases were made by the sheriff out of unsettled monies collected. We recommend that all collections by the sheriff be settled into the General Fund of the county and all expenses be approved and paid by the board of supervisors in accordance with the aforementioned section.

Jail Docket:

Section 19-25-63, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires that all persons committed to jail be entered into the jail docket. During the audited fiscal year prisoners incarcerated on weekends only were not entered into the jail docket. We recommend that the jail docket be maintained in accordance with the aforementioned section.

Process Docket:

Section 19-25-39, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires that the sheriff keep a mesne process docket in which he shall note each writ received, other than an execution, specifying names of parties, court from which issued, date of reception, how process served and when returned. During the audited fiscal year there were some processes not noted as when returned. We recommend that each process be noted when returned in accordance with the aforementioned section.

Schedule 7

HANCOCK COUNTY

Schedule of Findings and Recommendations
September 30, 1984

(5) Justice Court Judges.

Fines and Penalties:

Section 9-11-19, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires all fines and penalties to be settled on or before the first Monday of each month. Some fines and penalties were not settled. We recommend that all fines and penalties be settled in accordance with the aforementioned section.

Records of Justice Court Judges Going Out of Office:

Section 19-11-25, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires that all books and records of justice court judges going out of office to be delivered to the circuit court clerk within ten days of the expiration of term of office. Some records were not delivered to the circuit court clerk in compliance with this section. We recommend that all books and records be delivered to the circuit court clerk in accordance with the aforementioned section.

(6) State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act (Revenue Sharing Funds).

We noted no instance of noncompliance with the regulations and no material differences between the data on Bureau of Census Form RS-8 and the records of Hancock County for the year ended September 30, 1984.

Audit tests cannot and do not provide absolute assurance that all legal requirements have been complied with. Therefore, this schedule presents only those findings which came to the attention of the State Auditor's office and which are clearly questionable. Further, the State Auditor's office reserves the right to continue testing for legal compliance on this and all prior years.

Introducing Priazzo® Portofino with Italian sausage.

Priazzo® Portofino

Italian sausage makes it zesty.

What could be more natural in Priazzo® Italian pie than Italian sausage?

Thick, tangy slices of Italian sausage, mixed with green peppers, onions, our special sauce and a blend of mozzarella and cheddar cheeses.

All layered between two light, tasty crusts. Smothered with more sauce and cheese. And baked to perfection. Priazzo® Portofino is Italian pie at its most Italian.

So if you've already sampled our other delicious Priazzo Italian pie recipes, you simply must try new Priazzo® Portofino. And if you've never had Italian pie, Priazzo® Portofino is a great place to start.
